Our Man in Munich

Memorial to Jewish Near Olympics Site Where Athletes Died

Munich, Germany, is in the national spotlight this week — not only as the site of the international Olympics, but as the scene of horror and tragedy due to the deaths of 11 Israeli athletes, sacrificed by terrorists not associated with the sports competition.

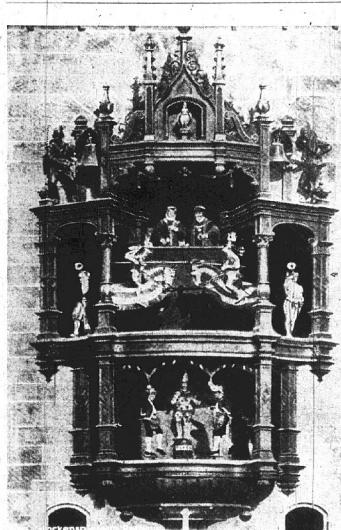

Insight into the city of Munich as a place of beauty and friendship is provided by the following article—one of three written for the Press-Record by Gary Kebbel on his stay in Germany this summer.

sophomore student at Illinois State University, Bloomington, he is the son of a Press-Record printer, William Kebbel.

Today's article was written prior to the tragic events of Tuesday but is timely in pic-

Route 3 Crash Fatal To J. E. Ridings, 76

Jefferson Eddie Ridings, 76, of Route 3, Jefferson, died Saturday at 8:18 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital following a two-car traffic accident.

The auto driven by Ridings was turning from St. Thomas Road onto Route 3 when it and the northbound car of Robert A. Schiefer, 32, of Aviston, Ill., collided.

Mrs. Birdie Ridings, 69, wife of Mr. Ridings, was a passenger in her husband's car. Both she and Schiefer were injured.

Mr. Ridings was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5 p.m. Tuesday. He was treated for two and a half and one and a half inch cuts to his head and

To millions of people, Munich means the Olympics, Mark Spitz and a fantastically designed roof over the new stadium, sporthall and swimming pool.

To the residents of Munich, the city means much more. Munichers are proud of the 814-year history of their city, which has seen countless wars with the Empire, the Imperial powers and the world.

Dramatizing their sentiments about misproportionate attention being paid to the Olympics — by the city government as well as the world — some Munich school children marched in July through the downtown promenade area, protesting what the Olympics had done to the city.

Most students carried signs drawing attention to the fact that $8 million was spent for a roof while Munich schools suffered.

The city received a new face with all the remodeling done for the Olympics, but perhaps it just made up for the true local colors.

Formerly called "the big city with a heart," Munich today is being called "the international city with a heart." To tourists, Munich appears to deserve that title, but Munichers would disagree.

In the past four years they've experienced fantastic inflation and have noticed that the natural color of their Bavarian city has been compromised for tourist attractions with tourist prices.

Too much of the city's culture and history has been overshadowed by the Olympics, to which most Munichers and Bavarians don't have tickets.

Next to the Olympics, the main tourist attraction is the Hofbräu Haus, Munich's internationally known beer house, from tourists, from the five non-Polar continents, listen to the Bavarian band, drink liters of beer and eat pretzels, radishes and cheese.

Nearly every five minutes, someone will want to toast. This means that at the table must clink their mugs together and have a drink.

A popular game is the pretzel (its German equivalent is pulling the wishbone). The one with the smallest part of the pretzel has to buy the winner a liter of beer.

Such fun is it in the Hofbräu Haus, most Munichers consider it "nothing more than a beer hall for tourists." Munichers have more fun in the city's museums, castles, theaters and opera.

abrasions to his face, head, both hands and both legs. X-rays were taken and he was ordered transferred to Firmus Deologic Hospital.

Returned to Hospital

An ambulance carrying Mr. Ridings left the emergency room at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday at Route 300 and Belmont Road, ambulance personnel recalled the hospital that the patients had begun cardiac arrest and that they were returning to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

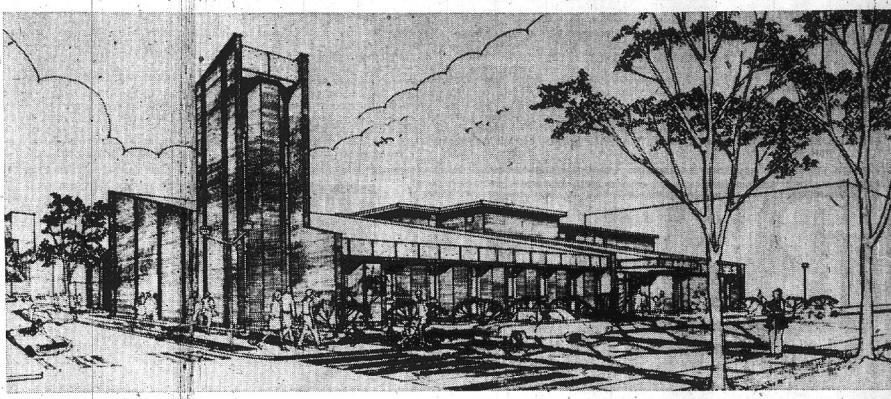

Medical officials were waiting with an inhalator and cardiac care equipment when the patient was taken to the hospital following the accident.

Extreme concern about educational growth Munichers often visit the city's museums, castles, theaters and opera.

Scheduled Teacher-Parent Talks on Pupils Are Ended

Direct, scheduled conferences between teachers and parents of elementary school students at report times should be abolished in the Granite City schools this school year, said board of education officials told during a meeting last night. The board agreed and voted to end the conferences.

Over E. Humphrey, curriculum director of the school district, said the system is inviting parents in for conferences twice during the year would be ended if a current Illinois state law, it has not yet gained legislative approval.

"Guidelines" from State Sup't Michael Balchak allow only two days per year in which conferences may be held and half of each of those days must be spent in regular classes, Humphrey said.

B. J. Davis, school superintendent, told the board, "We cannot possibly have parent-teacher conferences in two days. We are simply too large."

Davis stressed that parents still will be welcome to contact teachers at any time during the school year to arrange conferences. The new rules, however, require conferences at report card periods which have been held during the past four years.

TRY TO Change Law

We feel it is our duty to program and helped in home-to-school and school-to-home relations. There is nothing we can do except to try and have the law changed," Davis said.

It was criticized by outside education officials last year for allowing four half-days for conferences.

The system will use "A" for excellent, "B" for good, "C" for fair but needing improvement, and "D" for poor not meeting expected quality.

An "D" mark is to be followed with a written remark from the teacher. Remarks are optional with other grades but will be encouraged with "C" marks, Davis said.

The grades will be recorded on each student's permanent record, he added.

He said the break from parents shows they overwhelmingly prefer letter grades on report cards to the kind of evaluation system which was being used for most students.

Water Firm Acts to Meet New Deadline

The East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. in its efforts to comply with newly-adopted water pollution control regulations as set out by the Illinois Pollution Control Commission, submitted to the Environmental Protection Agency in Springfield a preliminary engineering report on construction and operation of a continuing discharge of sludge back into the Mississippi River.

The original date established for compliance was Dec. 31, 1975; however, on March 7, 1972, the IPCB adopted new regulations setting the compliance date to Dec. 31, 1973.

In attempting to comply, the company purchased 36 acres of land adjacent to its main pumping station in Stites Township on the east bank of the Mississippi River. This site will be used for construction of a sludge drying lagoon of solid waste, amounting to 1,200 tons a month. The facilities will cost over $300,000.

Entertainment following the service will be by the Little Cossack Dancers, Balalaika Orchestra and Christopher Durham, violinist, all members of the church community.

Church Built in 1900

Long before 1900, the seeds of Orthodoxy were planted in the city of Madison by Carpatho-Russian and Galician immigrants. In the year 1900, the people erected a wooden structure on Ewing Avenue. This church structure served the community for many years, with some additions being made. The parish is the second oldest congregation in Madison.

Due to the growth of the community and the need to expand the facility, construction of the building program under Father Theodore (now Bishop Theodore of Pittsburgh and West Virginia). It was decided to build a new church edifice on the present site. With the blessings of His Eminence Archbishop John of Chicago, the parish began in earnest the task of building a new church.

On the first Sunday of Great Lent (Sunday of Orthodoxy) March 14, 1965, the Holy Altar was consecrated and the church dedicated by His Eminence Archbishop John of Chicago.

In early 1967 Father Theodore was elevated and consecrated to the rank of Bishop of the Orthodox Church in America. His first assignment was as Bishop of Siki and all Alaska.

Another honor was bestowed upon the parish community when Theodore Fryniak, a member of the parish, and a native son of Madison, was ordained to the Holy Priesthood by His Eminence Archbishop John of Chicago and Minneapolis on April 2, 1968, in the new church. Father Theodore is now the pastor of Holy Assumption Orthodox Cathedral, Unalaska, Alaska.

GC Annexes 27 Homes In Nameoki Township

An ordinance annexing 27 residential properties in Nameoki Township to Granite City was approved on final passage by the city council Tuesday night.

The action followed discussion in which some aldermen favored placing the ordinance on first reading pending a determination of the cost involved in filing plats of the properties with the county clerk at Edwardsville.

Aldermen members attending the hearing voted unanimously for final passage, however, after it was pointed out the city engineer is preparing the plats so that they may be filed soon.

All of the annexed properties are on Emert Avenue, Zippel Street, Kildare and Stratford Lane.

Although the annexation was approved by the council, it will not become effective until the plats are filed with the county council members noted.

Appeal Dismissed

The council Tuesday night also approved after long discussion a motion authorizing City Attorney Leon Scroggins to appeal court rulings in two cases involving judgments favoring aldermen members of the Police Department.

The aldermen agreed that unless the cases are successfully appealed, precedents would be established that possibly could cost the city large sums of money in similar cases in the future.

The council authorized Scroggins to appeal to the Fifth District Appellate Court a circuit court judgment of $29,774 for

First Look at Warrior Grid Team Tonight on GCHS Field

Warrior football fans will get their first look at the gridiron tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Granite City High School football field when a full practice game will be played.

"After tonight we will be making up our starting lineups for at least our opener at Riverview Gardens Sept. 15," Wayne Williams, head GCHS football coach, said yesterday.

"None of the positions are determined before the game so we will study the game films. Of course, lineups change all year; as we see someone who can do the job better, he'll get the chance."

We have two potential starters at quarterback — Clay Wimbley (5-8, 180, senior) and Dave Donbeck (6-1, 168, junior).

Either way we go, we'll have a good quarterback. We used Wimbley in a couple of games last year and he is a courageous little runner. But he is small.

"Dombek is a good passer and at 6-1 probably better able to see the receivers downfield," Williams said.

The Warriors tonight will be divided up into a Black team which will have basically the probable starting varsity defensive players for the regular season, and a White team which will be made up of the top of fensive players.

Press-Record Sports

Page 6 Thur., Sept. 7, 1972

According to the GCHS coaches, they will make a lot of mistakes tonight and will effort to pick the right combination for the season opener.

Mike Martinez, 5-9, 150, junior, will play split end for the Blacks and Brad Weiss, 6-0, 195, senior, will be the White.

Tentative lineup for the White team includes Charles Ferrato, 6-10, 177, end; Tom Miller, 6-0, 195, junior, and Ed Williamson, 5-8, 155, sophomore, will be halfbacks.

The backfield for the Black team will be Wimbley at quarterback; Gary Lively, 5-10, 168, senior at fullback; Jon Stagner, 5-4, 155, senior, and Dale McMillan, 6-8, 165, junior, in the backfield.

Brad Hiles, 6-0, 210, senior, and John McMillan, 6-0, 210, juniors, will be tackles.

Guard positions will be filled by Jack Schooley, 5-10, 185, senior, and Barry Loman, 5-9, 185, senior.

Defensive ends will be Mike Stanton, 6-0, 180, and Rick Dombek, 5-11, 200, both seniors.

Russ Miller, 5-11, 205, senior will play center.

The Warriors' first home game will be against Fenton, Ill., on Sept. 22 at 8 p.m.

There is no charge for tonight's action and fans are invited to attend.

Defensive backs will be Mike Martinez, 5-9, 150, junior, and Kevin, 5-11, 170, both juniors, will fill the inside line backs slots.

Cornerbacks for the White team will be William Arnold,

Assumption Has Big Line Fast Backfield

The Assumption Pioneers' varsity football season will begin on Friday, Sept. 15, when they will meet Belleville West at 8 p.m. on Belleville's home field.

The second contest may prove to be one of the year's biggest battles. On Sept. 22 Assumption in this game will be the Althoff High School Crusaders of Belleville.

Althoff and Assumption have been meeting each other for many years. The game will be played at Althoff on Saturday, Sept. 23 at 8 p.m.

This year, as in the past six years, Coach Jim Haar will direct the team assisted by his brother, Bill Monken. Also assisting and coaching the junior varsity and freshman teams, respectively, will be Kent DeMars and William Hettema, both members of the Assumption faculty.

Asked about the varsity pioneers' pre-season spirit and potential, Coach Monken observed that the team has a great deal of enthusiasm and energy. The size of the team is up from last year and spirit is quite high compared to past seasons. "One of our offensive assets this year is the size of our offense, the line and the impressive speed of the backs."

Members of Assumption's offensive line include:

Ray Kemeys, 195 pounds, 6-foot, 3-inch; Jim Kassly, 190, 6-2; Bruce Schröder, 190, 6-1; Al Kowalewicz, 180, 6-3; Mark Remke, 210, 6-4.

Backs include:

John Young, 185, 6-0; Bob Mitchell, 185, 5-11; Vic Faust, 215, 6-3.

Examples of the speed exhibited so far by the men in the back positions are:

John Young, 100 yards in 10.5 seconds; Greg Darty, 100 yards in 10.5 seconds.

Greg Darty, 100 yards in 10.5 seconds; Charlie Halloran, 40 yards in 3:30. Several players have been approached by coaches in regard to their future years. Good prospects seem to be Ray Kemeys and Jim Kassly.

The 32-man team has 12 returning lettermen from last year. Six are on defense, three on offense, two on the line and the rest of the team has been brought up from the junior-varsity squad of last year.

The pioneer 1972 varsity grid schedule is as follows:

Sept. 15—At Althoff, 8 p.m.
Sept. 22—At Gibault, 8 p.m.
Sept. 29—4 p.m., Madison at Assumption.

Oct. 14, 2 p.m., at Lincoln, Oct. 21, 2 p.m., St. Louis U-High at Assumption.

Oct. 28, 2 p.m., O'Fallon at Assumption.

Nov. 4, 1:30 p.m., at East St. Louis.

Nov. 11, 2 p.m., at C.B.C.

Pre-game season tickets and individual game tickets are available at the gate or in the Assumption School office.

The opening game for the Madison High School football team is eight short days away. The Trojans open on the road Friday, Sept. 15, playing at Marion, Ill., and return on the St. Louis O'Fallon field beginning at 4 p.m.

"Our starting lineup is not decided yet, but we have some who are falling into place. We are going right up until the wire," said Vonder Haar, recalling his first year as head football coach for MHS, reports.

Some of the players Vonder Haar may offer an opening slot are Chris Stanley, 6-4, 180, senior; Jim Kassly, 190, 6-2; Bruce Schröder, 190, 6-1; Al Kowalewicz, 180, 6-3; Mark Remke, 210, 6-4.

He said the team is off to a good start.

He added: "We are working on our starting positions. This could be a surprising year for us. Our first unit is sound, although we just do not have depth. There is hardly any depth in our third string team."

"We have a good unit. Although we're small and lack experience, we should be fast, helping and encouraging team mates," the coach said.

The Trojans are concentrating on fundamentals, with the use of such training hard for starting positions.

Bryant Sets New Record, Warriors Beat O'Fallon

Warrior Howie Bryant, with a 15:09 time, set a new school cross-country record on the 2.8 mile Granite City High School track Wednesday as the local harriers defeated O'Fallon 15:46.

The old record of 15:23 was set last year by Bryant against Bellwood-Antis.

In practice, the course had been run in 14:29.

The top four runners after Bryant were Warriors Dewayne

Perry, 16:03; Mike Adams, 16:05; Phil Shands, 17:20; and Jim Hall, 17:36.

The race operator was to have included Triad, but that team could not make it and has scheduled a dual meet here on Oct. 3 at 4 p.m.

The GCCHS junior varsity runners again beat O'Fallon, 15:47. The top three runners were Greg Ahlers, 18:32, and Jim Caschetta, 18:41.

"For a first meet, we looked

The new year working for Sobkowsky, at that time assistant dean at the UCLA dental school. In early 1969, after a nationwide search, the SBU Board of Trustees appointed Sobkowsky as dean of the new school on the Alton campus.

Graduate Geographer Maps Dental School Plans

Nancy Laurie is a geographer by training who now maps plans for the Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine.

Her title is administrative assistant to dental school Dean Paul Sobkowsky. Her job, she says, does not begin to describe the assignments she has undertaken and completed since coming to SIU in 1969, when planning was just beginning for the dental school that will open with its first class of students in September.

Miss Laurie grew up in California and in 1966 graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles with a degree in geography. But jobs in geography were difficult to find, so she took a job in the admissions office of the UCLA School of Dentistry — quite "quite by chance," she said.

The year she was working for Sobkowsky, at that time assistant dean at the UCLA dental school. In early 1969, after a nationwide search, the SBU Board of Trustees appointed Sobkowsky as dean of the new school on the Alton campus.

"I came to SIU mainly because Dr. Sobkowsky asked me to," Miss Laurie said. "I'd become really enthusiastic about dentistry."

Has Many Rewards

"Helping develop a dental school from the beginning can be frustrating at times," she said, but it has many rewards, too. "It's especially pleasing to me an assignment where you break new ground and organize things from start to finish," she said.

Some of her assignments have included developing a catalog, handling the details of student financial aid and planning orientation activities for new students.

To such assignments were added unexpected tasks that developed while the dental school was trying to obtain necessary funding from the state and meet the accreditation criteria of the American Dental Association.

"I guess there were times I wondered if the dental school would open," Miss Laurie said. "With funds to higher education harder to come by than ever before, this is a difficult period to try to start a professional school."

Despite the obstacles, the dental school developed much faster than the six or seven year start-up time other dental schools had needed.

"I'm surprised and pleased that the SIU School of Dental Medicine could start classes as soon as this year," Miss Laurie said. "We're far ahead of most dental schools and I think that's attributable to the enthusiasm of the people who started it."

She said the enthusiasm in the community has never ceased to amaze her. "The people in this area seem to be very excited," she said. "They want and need the dental school."

One of her continuing assignments has been to communicate with the school's various internal and external publications.

As internal communicator, she edits the dental school's newsletter, which combines serious features on dental care with personal news of faculty and students and the widely read "Molar Magazine," based on the serial format of several popular radio fictions.

As external communicator, she answers many of the misinformed questions asked by area residents, potential students and others.

"Probably the main question since I came here has been 'What do you do for patients?'" she said. "We get calls from people who aren't able to pay for private dental care."

Will Screen Patients?

"Ever since the beginning, we've been talking about noting the problems they have. We've developed a file and we'll begin screening patients as soon as we have the room to treat them."

With all her responsibilities, Miss Laurie still manages to be present when the dental school's top administrators call her.

"The function of any staff person is to assist the chief administrator to boost his morale," she said. "At UCLA, I was pretty far removed from the dean's office, so it's been especially fascinating here to see the particular problems that a person in charge must face."

Miss Laurie said any further education she seeks will likely be in the field of public health care administration. "It's a field that's service-oriented, where I'd be dealing with people. I have great respect for it. It's training you can apply to help others."

ALL-WOMEN'S GROUP is organized for the upcoming United Fund campaign to solicit funds from the Professional Division. Co-chairwomen Judy Dailey and Joyce Toussaint (white headband) at right explain to the volunteers what their duties will be. Campaign Chairman Paul Kelly, A. O. Smith Corp. plant manager, is seated at left.

All-Woman Staff for Division Of October United Fund Drive

The women are going to try outdoing the men in collecting money for the Tri-Cities United Fund.

An entire division of the October financial campaign has been turned over to an all-woman group of UF solicitors.

The Professional Division is being headed by co-chairwomen Judy Dailey and Joyce Toussaint, who are the wives of professional men — and they'll be aided by 20 to 25 other wives of doctors, lawyers, dentists and men of other professions.

"The success of the Professional group reflects at all the attractiveness of its members, the men just don't stand a chance," commented UF campaign chairman Paul Kelly.

O. Smith plant manager, who addressed the women's organizational meeting.

"That's why we must count on increased contributions from people who have given us in the past, if we are to make our goal."

To open the meeting of the Professional Division, C. A. McMillan, Mrs. McMillan, and Mrs. Gladys Bass, coordinated.

Mrs. Dailey told the women they will be asked to contact five officers each, including their own husbands' (or families).

There are over 100 dentists, physicians and lawyers practicing in the Quad Cities.

"Since we're not giving our volunteers a very large territory, we're asking them to go door-to-door to eyeball confrontation for getting results," he suggested.

"Although it may be difficult for some to do, we're asking pledges, I am sure you will be more successful by doing it in person."

Kelly explained the thinking behind the all-women division. He said that the professional men had been most difficult to contact in past United Fund campaigns, because they are extremely busy men and have little time.

He felt that wives of such men should have a better understanding of how to contact them.

Mrs. Betty Papp became the first to earn a basket of daisies and a gold star.

On Sept. 2 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The Rev. Daniel Flynn officiated at the two o'clock wedding ceremony before an altar decorated with carnations and gladioli, blue carnations, and a bouquet of white daisies and blue carnations tinted green.

Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw, owner, provided a program of wedding selections preceding the service.

The bride was escorted down the white carpet aisle by her father, Charles A. Papp Jr. She wore a full length gown with a white lace bodice and a lace skirt with a mint green chiffon overlay, designed with an emerald green choker, bedice and long sleeves. The high rise waistline was defined with a subtle belt.

Her mother was an arrangement of white daisies and carnations tinted green.

Attending the groom as best man was Norbert Althigreter, Son as usher was George Kovach.

Little Kathleen Papp, a grand-daughter of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a long blue lace frock, styled similar to the bridal gown, and a white lace headpiece and carried a bouquet of white daisies and blue carnations encircled with greenery and white lace.

Mrs. Donna Papp, a daughter-in-law of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was dressed in a mint green chiffon dress, designed with an emerald green choker, bedice and long sleeves. The high rise waistline was defined with a subtle belt.

Bureaucratic Harassment Endangers Free Enterprise, State Chamber Chairman Warns in Area

A swing away from rapidly increasing governmental power was advocated "last night by Ralph C. Claassen, board chairman of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, at an Alton dinner attended by many Quad-Citians. Over 150 business leaders from 20 communities formed the audience.

Chairman of the meeting was Edward W. Rube, president, Brass Group, Olin Corp., East Alton, and co-sponsors included Carl E. Mathias of Granite City, Illinois Power Co. service area manager in Madison County.

Excerpts from Claassen's text follow:

In the year 1862, American author Henry David Thoreau said: "Any fool can make a rule, and every fool will mind it." Tonight, I want to discuss the problem of too much government regulation at all levels — and how this escalation of harassment affects the very survival of your business and mine, and what we can do to help save our economic system.

There is no question that the government's unrealistic controls over business hamstring the nation's economy, and that the general harassment and regulation of American business amounts to nothing short of a declared state of war against free enterprise.

It's time to do a little name-dropping. The FTC, ICC, FPC, FDA, EPA, NLRB, EEOC, SEC, to name just a few of our old friends.

We're all to familiar with these examples of government's excessive controls over business and the economy:

The Federal Communications Commission, which has charged businesses with false advertising practices, only to have to rescind the charge after economic studies in publishing industry to set prices; yet, it is legal for a single industry-wide union to get wage rates for the entire industry.

These are just a few examples of the many rules and regulations under which business must operate.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, which potentially can prohibit an employer from moving his place of business if the new location would not be convenient for minority workers.

Pollution control legislation, which has severely hampered business expansion, is doing business, increase unemployment, and make certain that the U. S. will be unable to compete in world markets. And this says nothing about energy controls at a time when energy shortages are frequent and government maintains tight controls over price increases.

Wage and price controls, which prevent producers from expanding and increasing employment, but at the same time fail to curb inflation by reducing spending of the government alone.

The State Chamber could find no one in government, including Budget, who even knows how many agencies exist with such regulatory authority — let alone how many regulations were promulgated during 1971.

But, as does almost every agency which directs its efforts to affect your business, large and small.

Federal Trade Commission statistics disclose that the agency's 12 enforcement officers last year alone, more than $30,000 a year. Last year they averaged only 25,000 pages.

Consider that just one regulatory agency —OSHA — during its first year of existence laid down 15,000 requirements and is responsible for 15,000 more.

Was it not bad enough we have chaos when we need unity, the regulatory approach has demonstrated time and time again that it does not solve problems but creates them.

Take transportation. The Interstate Commerce Commission has superimposed its wisdom over the decentralized regulation of the free market in transportation for 85 years. In the process, it has accumulated a file of 43 trillion rates, weight and indexes.

Careful study of the effects of such ICC regulatory action leads experts to conclude that we pay $4 billion to $7 billion more each year in transportation costs for consumer service than we would in a free transportation market.

The nation's regulatory agencies now pending in Washington to set up the Consumer Product Safety Commission could establish a five-man panel as investigator, prosecutor, judge and jury in the administration of all consumer safety matters?

It could have safety authority over millions upon millions of products practically speaking, with no legislative action.

Without hearing or right of cross-examination, the commission could promulgate industry-wide mandatory "safety standards" and other regulations.

What has happened to our system of checks and balances in government, our American system of due process under the law?

You don't like what you've heard here, what are you going to do about it? What can you do about it?

Why not have for government policies less stringent than those it imposes on others? Under a Truth in Government act we would see legislative labels like these: "Caution: This legislative package contains unknown costs and may have unforeseen consequences."

Say, a principal failure of regulations is that it preserves or creates economic inefficiency.

Federal Trade Commission statistics disclose that the agency's 12 enforcement officers last year alone, more than $30,000 a year.

Last year they averaged only two cases each.

Let me underscore one important point which runs contrary to the popular wisdom: It would be better to have chaos than to be a water pollution problem long before this, if the regulators had been able to agree on what to do about it yesterday.

Is it logical to ask if a deteriorating environment requires government agencies to prepare a detailed environmental impact statement for each action why a deteriorating economy and rising regulation ought not require a detailed economic impact statement?

If we stand ready to turn over free markets and private enterprise to regulation, should we not at least "regulate the regulators?"

There must be a complete assessment of every government regulatory action and agency.

Businessmen must speak up in behalf of economic freedom before it is compromised away in a maze of political considerations.

American business, when allowed to be free at times, has provided citizens with the highest standard of living in the world. It has done this through economic freedom.

The rest of the world, through economic slavery, has hardly been able to feed its people.

It is no way to increase our standard of living, improve our competitive standing in world markets, ease the problems of inflation, reduce taxation, and really give consumers the choice they deserve, except by taking government out of the economy, not giving it control over the economy as we are now doing.

For too long, American businessmen have tended to apologize for their successes.

They sit silently as capitalism is attacked by those who argue that somehow government intervention of the marketplace would produce a more equitable sharing of the nation's resources.

They know that capitalism is simply freedom to compete in the marketplace that under a system of free enterprise is the consumer, the individual, who votes with his dollars in the marketplace and determines exactly what would be produced in the economy.

In a Capitalistic Community, and Fascistic economics supported by advocates of collectivism, it is a small band of bureaucrats who make this decision.

The best consumer advocate is not a new law or government super-agency, but free enterprise itself.

Under our system, the consumer votes with his dollars for the kinds of products he wants.

The jury of American business is not a court of law but the millions of free citizens who judge its products and services as they choose between them.

As we have seen, there has been waiting for a crisis, that crisis is at hand. The survival of business is on the line. The survival is in our hands, for no one will save private enterprise by regulation.

Jobs for Retarded Object Of Special SIUE Program

The Speech and Hearing Clinic at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is entering a graduate practicum arrangement with Specialized Services, Inc., Alton.

According to Keith St. Onge, chairman of the speech and hearing department at SIUE, the arrangement will provide opportunities for student clinicians and speech therapists to work with retarded persons with communication disorders. These disorders may include language deficits, articulation skills, hearing problems and other kinds of speech difficulties.

Specialized Services, Inc., is a rehabilitation agency which tries to evaluate what the retarded can do and, if possible, to put them to work. Conceived by a group of parents in Alton, Specialized Services has developed into an organization with more than 200 trainees from a three-county area and a staff of more than 50 trained personnel.

Attitudes toward educating the retarded have changed dramatically during the last few years, St. Onge pointed out.

"There is more gratification in employment in this field," he said, "and more concern today with the emotional and social needs as well as the specific needs and job interests of the retarded."

This is the speech and hearing clinic's first venture with the mentally retarded.

Working on Masters'

Mrs. James E. Laurent of East Alton, who received her bachelor's degree in speech pathology at SIUE in 1968, has a stipend to work Specialized Services in Alton while working on her master's degree at the Edwardsville campus.

Mrs. Laurent has worked in special education in the Cahokia district and for the Madison County Association for Retarded Children.

CHECK FOR $1,600 is presented to Viola Morgan, 1217 Edwardsville Road, as prize in a store contest at Schermer's Market, 12th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison. The presentation is made by Leo Schermer, store operator.

Primary objectives of the "We want to study their (the retarded) relationship with people and to help them develop study, the aptitudes, physical capacity and quality of the work of the retarded," St. Onge said. SIU faculty will assume consultant and supervisory roles in the practicum arrangement.

Big Volume of Mail at Office of Gov. Ogilvie

Connie News Service

Spryfield, Ill. — Don't tell Pat Alexander it's been hell to read someone else's mail. She not only reads it, she answers it—and gets paid for it.

Pat is an office "friendly and efficient" — has the job of dealing with the bulk of the thousands of letters which come in weekly addressed to Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

She says there are about 2,000 in an average week, though a major issue such as Women's Lib aid to private schools of abortion will bring in 4,000 to 5,000 letters each week.

Letters to the "issue" group are those on a specific subject. Thus, one day recently, she had on her desk a bundle of probably 350 letters, signed forms and petitions, all urging the governor to approve legislation related to the mentally retarded.

Since the governor had in fact already signed the bills several days earlier, she was spending a lot of time sent to each of the persons who took the time to make their views known.

"Within reason, the 'issue' answers are addressed individually and then sorted automatically. But where thousands of replies must be sent, a printed form addressed to 'Dear Interested Citizen,' or such, must be used."

"Case" mail, on the other hand, usually demands a personal, individual reply, which often may be the start of a long involved correspondence.

Under the head of "case mail" also are the telephone calls from people who have a problem with government.

Whenever possible, appropriate forms are filled out and these, Pat says, making the "case" mail obviously the most time-consuming part of her job.

"People think there's nothing he (the governor) can't do," she says in some bemusement.

"They really think he can get their tax bills cut or make a college take their youngster when all other bodies turn them down. Some start out, 'I don't know why I'm writing because I know you'll just throw this in the wastebasket' while others are very humble and say, 'if you can possibly spare any time for such a minor problem.'

"And a lot more take the line that 'if you don't do something about this, I'm certainly not going to vote for you,' " she says, adding, "and they never believe it when you say he just legally can't do some of the things they want."

A native of Wisconsin who went to school in Illinois, Pat joined the Illinois governor's staff when Gov. Ogilvie took office four years ago, first as secretary to his liaison for mental health, and then establishing the mail section she now heads.

A political science major in college, Pat was active in Young Republican activities which introduced her to many of the other young people in Midwest colleges who eventually became part of Gov. Ogilvie's capitol entourage.

Anonymous, vicious or obscene mail is discarded without being sent back, Pat says, while other letters sometimes are simply unanswered because the writer doesn't really

Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation

Bella Vista Industrial Village in Belleville will be the location of a new manufacturing plant for Intertherm Inc. The plant is proposed to be built on a 30-acre tract and will enclose about 278,000 square feet of space.

About 550 persons will be employed at the Belleville location producing oil, gas and electric furnaces. The facility is expected to be completed in November of next year.

Construction of the new plant will be in cooperation with the developers of the 225-acre industrial park. Intertherm presently employs about 350 persons at several locations in the metropolitan area and maintains corporate offices in St. Louis.

Schools opened throughout the area last week although a delay was experienced by the Belleville school system. More than 350 students in the district received a brief "reprise" from classes while teachers were on strike three weeks ago.

The method for arbitrating grievances was at issue in the dispute.

The Beck Area Vocational Center near Hecker in Monroe County opened with 32 students yesterday. Classes offered at the center include data processing, office procedures and management, electronics, basic electricity, machine accounting, drafting, graphic arts and commercial arts.

Several more courses are expected to be added to the curriculum next fall. The center serves the separate school districts in Clark, Monroe and Randolph Counties.

A new type of freight will be available to shippers in the metropolitan area within the next month. Forest Stearnship Corp. will begin offering the service, which utilizes the newly developed LASH (lighter aboard ship) method of containerized shipping.

Under this method, cargo is loaded aboard LASH barges in St. Louis and transported to New Orleans. At that point, the barges are placed aboard special ships for the trip to European ocean ports. Each barge can accommodate up to 350 tons of cargo.

Area zoning and planning activities to make news in this region. In Monroe County, 13 public hearings have been scheduled to consider revisions to that county's zoning ordinance. Preparation of the new zoning ordinance has

McKeal on East Coast For Training in Navy

Danny Harold McKeal, son of Lloyd L. McKeal of Granite City, has enlisted in the Navy and is currently receiving training at the Navy's new Training Center at Orlando, Fla.

After completion of recruit training, he will be granted 14-day leave prior to reporting to his next duty station or service assignment.

McKeal will be stationed on the East Coast after completion of training. He enlisted under the Navy's new Seafarer program which allows one to enlist for three years and be assigned to the coast of his choice.

want anything except to get something off his chest.

Public aid cases apparently are well-versed in going right to the top. Pat says her percentage of the "case" mail is from welfare recipients who dash off a letter to the governor when they feel they should get more money, additional furniture allowances, etc. Their caseworkers aren't devoting enough time to them.

The lonely elderly write frequently, too. If they have someone to live with or aging, the letters are passed on to the governor's Commission on Senior Citizens.

Pat and her husband, a lawyer, are expecting their first child and she sees will be leaving her unit soon.

With her secretarial skills, she could always go back to work if she wanted, she says (she is a former teacher in freedom from work). But she admits that most jobs now would be pretty routine by comparison.

In Madison County, the plan commission has decided to hold a series of informational meetings during which groups would be invited to give their views on proposed county land use.

The meetings are tentatively scheduled to begin this month.

State Bank of Collinsville has announced plans to remodel its facilities and add a larger structure on Main Street in its interior. The project is the third of its kind for the bank in ten years. Work is to be completed by December.

The Mississippi River Festival ended its six-week season with a purse of nearly $16,000. Attendance at Festival events this year was 195,000, up 12% over 1969. Plans are now being made by Festival backers to design a program for the 1973 season. In an expected move, the board of East-West Gateway is considering a proposal submitted in August and again affirmed its support of an Illinois location for the second major St. Louis area airport. Copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to the Federal Aviation Administration. A decision by the Administration is expected prior to the November elections.

SERGEANT AND MRS. CHARLES ZOOK. They were married at the First Baptist Church in Mitchell. She is the former Miss Judy Ann Damo, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Damo, 5105 Lewis Ave.Judy Ann Damo Becomes
Mrs. Charles D. Zook

First Baptist Church of Mitchell was the scene of the afternoon wedding, Sept. 2, of Miss Judy Ann Damo, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Zook, 5105 Lewis Ave., and Sgt. Charles David Zook, U. S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Zook, 1001 Meadowbrook, Anderson, Ind.

The Rev. Ronald Cooper performed the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock before an altar adorned with ferns and greenery. Mrs. W. J. Richardson, pianist, accompanied Kenneth Flynn as he sang the themes from "Romeo and Juliet" and "Love Story" and the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Damo escorted her daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a full length bridal gown of white lace over taffeta, with tiny ruffles edging the high waistline. The long sleeves were set into an Empire bodice and the bell silhouette skirt terminated at the hemline with a matching ruffle.

She wore a beaded organza headpiece to secure the full cathedral train, edged with scalloped lace, and she carried a cascade of pink roses and baby breath centered with a delicate orchid corsage.

Miss Beverly Nicholls was maid of honor and Miss Tina Zook, a sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Susan Hessel, the bride's niece, was junior bridesmaid.

Kimberly Stout served as flower girl, with Danny Zook, a nephew of the groom, as ring bearer.

The honor attendant chose a floor length gown of green saki, fashioned in Empire style and featuring short puffed sleeves trimmed with delicate white lace. The bridesmaids and flower girl appeared in apricot and pink colored frocks, designed in similar style to the maid of honor's dress. Each girl wore a beaded corsage and a sash to match her gown and held a bouquet of daisy pom poms, encircled with baby breath.

The groom chose his brother, Dan Zook, as best man. Robert Smith, Donald Jackson, Jerry Martin, of the groom, Larry Gwaltney and Jim Kirby completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Misses Linda Petersen and Pam Ferguson presided over the guest book at a reception held in the church following the service.

A rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening by the groom's parents at Charlie's Restaurant.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Damo wore a pale green coat and dress ensemble, accented with a beaded collar and matching accessories.

Mrs. Zook, mother of the groom, appeared in an apricot coat-dress costume. Her accessories were in a matching shawl. Both mothers wore white pom pom corsages.

After a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, the couple will reside in Belleville.

The former Miss Damo is a graduate of Granite City High School and is presently enrolled in the Occupational Therapy Department at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Her husband attended Anderson (Ind.) Senior High School and Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind. He presently is stationed at Scott AFB.

Animal Protective Group to Stage Unique 'Dog Wash' to Raise Funds

A benefit "wash" project with a difference — dogs instead of APA — will be staged this month in Granite City as part of the current drive for funds by the Quad-City Association for the Protection of Animals.

Proceeds from the "dog wash" and related events, including a roadblock for motorists Saturday afternoon at the intersection of 20th Street and Niedringhaus and Edison avenues, will be used to operate the organization's programs for youth.

Mrs. Judith Johnson, APA president, said a fund-raising goal of $5,000 has been set for the month-long campaign.

"Our money will enable us to keep our services to Quad-Cityans in the month-long campaign," she added.

In charge of the "dog wash" project, set from noon until 4 p.m. Saturday, is Miss Kat Harsh, APA secretary and treasurer.

Expand Services

The demands on the APA organization since it was established four years ago have been tremendous, Mrs. Johnson pointed out. "With adequate backing we intend to offer more services to Quad-Cityans in the future," she added.

In charge of the "dog wash" project, set from noon until 4 p.m. Saturday, is Miss Kat Harsh, APA secretary and treasurer.

teacher at Prather Junior High School, where she serves as advisor to the Student APA Branch.

Volunteer members of the student group will assist in all projects during the campaign for funds, Mrs. Johnson said. Other events include a professional dog show Saturday afternoon, and participation in the annual "Charity Days" fete at Nameoki Village Shopping Center, Sept. 14-16.

In charge of the "dog wash" project, set from noon until 4 p.m. Saturday, is Miss Kat Harsh, APA secretary and treasurer.

related items. No adoption booth is planned by the group at the "Charity Days" activity.

The unique "dog wash" will be held at the intersection of 20th and Edison in the area, is planned for Saturday, Sept. 23, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Collins Shell Station, Johnson and Nameoki roads. Pet owners will be encouraged to bring their animals to the center for grooming with the charge to be announced at a later date.

Animal Contest

Plans are progressing for the "Animal Contest," Mrs. Johnson said. The location will be the woodcock tract of land adjacent to the A&P Grocery store on Fehling Road.

Entry blanks will be made available in mid-September at several points in the community, and open registration will be held Saturday, Sept. 30, from 10 a.m. until noon, Sept. 30, the APA officials said. An entry fee of $1 per animal will be charged.

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded and the judging panel will include members of the Humane Society of Missouri and other professional animal handlers.

Mrs. Johnson is serving as general chairman for the contest, with Miss Helen Grotz, APA treasurer, in charge of all details, with adult supervisors to be present to assist, she explained.

and Cheryl Tyler, co-chairman of the cat division.

Jac King will supervise animals in the hamster, Guinea pig, rabbits and pet mice section. Horses also may be entered in the contest, with Marlene Marmon to serve as judge in this division, Mrs. Johnson announced.

Both the roadblock and dog wash projects are ideas submitted by the Student APA group that will be supervised by the Student APA treasurer, in charge of all details, with adult supervisors to be present to assist, she explained.

which is to fence only areas in which it is dangerous to children

when they are outside.

The board accepted a gift of 23 classroom fans and a ceramic kiln from the Frohardt

Parent-Teacher Association for use in the school and gave Marshall School permission to purchase furniture for the teachers' lounge from activity funds. The furniture will cost about $200 and will be donated to the school district.

meetings during the current year. During a social hour, games were played, with several prizes awarded.

Those present were Mesdames Annabel Chesnut, Geraldine Cox, Virginia Johnson, Ella Reynolds, Ruth Seymour and Miss Hazel Towner.

Bouquets of cut garden flowers were used to decorate tables for the 1972-73 membership drive kick-off of Madison County Homemakers Extension Association office in Edwardsville.

Second vice-chairmen in charge of membership from 31 county units, district vice-chairmen and county council members attended the kick-off program which set the goal to boost extension membership from the present 1,103 to 1,330 women.

The Cooperative Extension Service offers courses in home economics and agriculture to interested persons, both rural and urban, regardless of race, color or national origin, as a service of the University of Illinois.

William Stutz, Bethesda membership chairman and Madison County second vice-president, formally opened the membership drive and presided over the meeting. She introduced the theme for the drive, "Roll All the Way—Join HEA," and spoke on membership qualifications within units.

Mrs. Stutz explained that awards accompanying recognition in obtaining new members from Sept. 1 to Oct. 31.

Winning units' membership chairman will receive an all-expense trip to the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation annual meeting in January at the University of Illinois campus in Urbana-Champaign. Units with six or more new members will be judged winner units, she said.

G. W. Hageman, director of membership relations for the Illinois Agricultural Association, spoke on how to make membership drive succeed. He commented, "Too many membership drives are carried out with

The state agriculture association official ended his presentation by encouraging the structure and cultural arts.

Another feature of the overall program was in creative projects which have creative pinwheels, paper wreaths, creative stitching, plastic bottle crafts and numerous Christmas ideas.

Through units in the local communities, women learn of state and national homemaker programs, including cooperation with the International Association of Country Women of the World.

Also speaking during the afternoon was Mrs. Catherine Hopper and R. Dennis Lockhart.

Additions to house rules were discussed and proposed revisions were approved for ratification by the general membership at a later meeting.

The need to increase donations to support various Extension activities was reviewed and determined by Jess Hadley, crippled children's Fund chairman, Bob Bloomfield, Heart Fund di-

MR. AND MRS. RONNIE D. RUEBHAUSEN. The bride is the former Miss Kathleen Ann Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Carroll, 3234 Spalding Ave. They were married at the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville.

Kathleen Ann Carroll, Ronnie Ruebhausen Wed

Miss Kathleen Ann Carroll, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Carroll, 3234 Spalding Ave., and Ronnie D. Ruebhausen, 1002 Rode Ave., were united in marriage Sept. 2 in a late afternoon ceremony taking place at the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville.

Sparks flew as the ring-bearer, wearing an atlas and tiny summer blooms, was placed on each side of the altar. Bob Burris of Granite City and Joyce Limemann of Edwardsville provided a program of guitar music and songs prior to the arrival of the wedding party.

The Rev. James Shoretz celebrated the wedding mass at 4 o'clock.

A gown of gardenia white silk organza was worn by the bride. It was fashioned with a flounce lace bodice over organza, featuring a wide lace belt and full bustle sleeves.

The waistline was defined with lace-over-satin ribbon, terminating in a tailored bow, and a detachable court train of organza was enhanced with rhinestones.

The fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held in place with a Juliet-style headpiece of Venetian lace etched with pearls.

She carried a cascade of pink roses, yellow carnations, white lilies, yellow rosebuds, yellow carnations, yellow tulips, and ivy, centered with a detachable orchid corsage.

Mrs. Ruebhausen received a maid of honor and bridesmaids.

They were gowned in similar styled dresses created in sheer, silvery lilac nylon, combined with the same color re-embroidered nylon over taffeta.

The former Miss Carroll, 1969 graduate of Granite City High School, received a degree

Honor Circle Begins Year

Honor Circle of the United Methodist Women resumed regular meetings Wednesday at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

They spent the morning quilting and were served a noon dinner luncheon by Mrs. Charlotte Weir.

Mrs. Clara Wadlow, chairman, presided at the meeting and submitted a report on a recent executive board session. She said the annual fall bazaar will take place at the church on Nov. 17.

Also announced was a district conference of the United Methodist Women set Sunday at O'Fallon.

Mrs. Eva Evans, who has served as chairman for sick calls, stated that 60 calls had been made during July and August. Mrs. Weir will assume the office this year, replacing Mrs. Evans.

The lesson, entitled "The Shepherd Psalm," was given by Mrs. Evans with the entire group repeating the 23rd Psalm.

Others present were Mesdames Mildred Cundiff, Edith Eberthon, Beulah Fox, Augusta Pender, Winifred Reimers and Pearl Campbell.

It was announced the veterans' organization's national convention will be held in Palm Springs, Calif., Sept. 15-20. Mrs. Kathryn Fellers, a past national president, is planning to attend.

New member Mrs. Elsa Stevens was welcomed.

Party Honors Bridge-To-Be

The party was held at the long Lake Firemen's Hall at Pontoon Beach. Decorations were in pink and blue, the wedding colors.

Games were played and seven prizes were awarded after the honoree opened her gifts. The hostesses served refreshments to 33 guests.

Miss Meyer is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyer, 1030 Lake Drive. Her fiance is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stone, 2414 Marigold Ave.

No Substitute for Contact With People in Campaigning

By GOVERNOR
RICHARD B. OGILVIE

There's no substitute for people.

This is the impression which has been renewed by the first week of an intensive campaign trip.

As hectic as such trips are, I consider them a must—for several reasons.

The best one is the chance to meet and talk with real people instead of faceless batteries of microphones and TV cameras.

While modern-day techniques are essential to communications in a state with more than 11 million people, they're cold and dead compared to talking to people in person.

Another good reason is the chance such campaigning gives us to learn what's on people's minds and bring them to a common cause.

Like the farmer who asked me early in the 1968 campaign what I was going to do about hog cholera, Not yet well-versed in farm matters, I wasn't sure what he meant—but figured that it must mean something bad. So I answered him: "We're going to do away with it."

Thanks to an aggressive questionnaire program, we did just that last year.

Personally, I like campaigning because the reactions are so spontaneous and most people are so friendly even if they might be planning to vote for someone else.

That might include the graveyard-shift miner I met in a morgue recently. We met equals for the fact he was without clothes, which seems like a good way to take a shower.

Another great plus of such campaigning is the feeling for the state which wide travel brings anyone.

Personally, I find Southern Illinois beautiful and fully worthy of all the state promotional efforts to increase tourism there.

What's even more exciting is the development of so many lakes and reservoirs which have enhanced people's enjoyment of the stagnant economy of the region.

But I also like the bustle of mid-central Illinois, the state's river towns, and the gently rolling hills of some of the northern counties.

If you count my 1968 travels and those of my opponents, we must have racked up some kind of joint record for traveling this big state.

People around Chicago, I'm sure, don't know that Cairo is one of the few major concerns of the area for many years has been its vigorous and growing university system.

The hours and hours I've spent talking to people in this area will fade into memory as the thought of young people in two fine new buildings at the SIU campus at Edwardsville, for example,

Under a brilliant summer sky, you can see more clearly than ever that Illinois is building for its future.

And that future is clearly the 11 million people who make the state which is No. 5 in population, No. 4 in so many ways,

2 Houses on Willow Ransacked, Looted

A pair of teen glasses, two radios and a guitar and case were taken from the home of Victor Burdge, 3109 Willow Ave., the owner reported at 4:05 p.m. Tuesday. The house also was trashed and vandalized, he reported.

Mustard, barbecue sauce and syrup were thrown throughout the kitchen and syrup was poured over the living room rug floor inside. A policeman who was investigating the burglary, he noticed that the storm sash had been broken and debt at the home of John LaFosse, 3105 Willow Ave. Both the house and garage had been ransacked.

Taken were a rifle and scope, a .357 magnum pistol, a slide rule, a pocket knife, a balance scale, checks and bills. The freezer and refrigerator doors were left open.

Registration Continue For Adult Classes

Registration will continue through 4:30 p.m. Friday at Granite City High School for the fall semester of Adult Education courses. Evening classes started on Sept. 12.

Comment and Analysis

Sept. 7, 1972

Lead by Illinoisan, Prisons Adopting New, Clearer Policies

Comment by Press-Record Washington bureau — Prison administrators, in a public acknowledgement that reforms are overdue, are urging nationwide adoption of fair and reasonable guidelines for dealing with inmates, the press and public are told.

The Association of State Correctional Administrators has just sent three top representatives here to express its "collective view" in the first such press conference "in the history of American penology."

Peter B. Bensinger, the Association's president, director of the Illinois Department of Corrections, told his National Press Club audience he was "happy to appear—not following an emergency or riot in one of our institutions."

With Bensinger were William D. Lewis, director of South Carolina's Department of Corrections and the immediate past president of the Association, and Bennett Cooper, Association vice-president and commissioner of the Ohio Division of Corrections.

The Association met in Pittsburgh in August and adopted unanimously recommendations it had previously and thoroughly debated to modernize and coordinate the welter of administrative systems used by federal and state prison authorities. It will meet again in November in Chicago to urge implementation.

Responsible to two major critics—landmark corrective policies are chaotic and that prison walls while retaining prisoners also effectively bar the public and the press—the Association developed some key recommendations:

Access to the media — The press should have maximum access to prison security committees, and the press should be permitted to correspond freely. Inmates should be allowed to write for publication and to make filmed interviews and television appearances.

Racial issues—Prison administrators must make it clear discrimination will not be tolerated and insure that human relations are stressed in all training programs.

Mail—Inmates should be permitted to send sealed letters, which should not be intercepted and opened, to a prescribed list including federal and state judges, officials of the confining authority and members of the paroling authority.

Patents Show Electricity Necessary to Clean the Environment

An interesting point has been brought up by the Applegate, a former Granite Cityan, at a two-day conference held for all Illinois Power Company sales personnel.

Now supervisor of community relations for the utility, Applegate noted that "efforts to clean up the environment will require a sizeable amount of electricity." 27 patents issued last year in the U. S. Patent Office covering various methods for cleaning the environment utilize electricity.

It is ironic that current efforts to provide adequate quantities of electric power are being thwarted at many

Letters from these persons may be subject to contraband inspection. General correspondence with close relatives and legitimate businesses should be unlimited.

Disciplinary procedures — Rules should be written, explicit and few, clearly known to all. Violators should be dealt with promptly and fairly and severe penalties may be imposed after a fair hearing.

Records—Public records should be available for examination upon request. Confidential matters concerning inmates should not be disclosed.

Publications—Inmates should have free access to publications, only from the publisher or distributor, to the greatest degree consistent with prison goals, discipline and security.

Other reforms were recommended in mental and physical health, prison surroundings, exercise and recreation, reviews and appeals, disciplinary procedures for minor and major violations, special visits, furloughs and similar issues that have evoked criticism of the penal system in recent years.

In response to a query, Bensinger said only administrative, not legislative, action would be required to adopt the guidelines in most states.

When a reporter asked if the "hard-case" wardens are likely to view the Association as a bunch of mollycoddling reformers, and dig in their heels, Cooper said only, "Not probably."

"The wardens work at my pleasure," said the Ohioan.

Bensinger sought to emphasize that the Association's recommendations are not regarded as a panacea.

"This document is not perfect," he said. "But it does represent the first time administration has taken the responsibility to put down the way we think we should operate."

Bensinger said the "answer" to penal reform in the final analysis will come from "an involved and interested community."

"This is a start," he added.

The association has a membership composed of the top correctional chiefs in 48 states, the District of Columbia, New York City, Chicago and Philadelphia. Canada is a member; Wyoming and Mississippi are not members. The Federal Bureau of Prisons is represented on an associate basis, and the U.S. Marine Corps recently joined.

We are proud of the progress made to improve the life of all working Americans. Now we look ahead to even greater achievements.

1. To full employment enabling every American who wants to work to have the opportunity.

2. Increased employment opportunities and job increases in Job Corps and the Neighborhood Youth Corps programs.

We have redesigned the Work and On-the-Job Training programs to provide recipients with greater opportunities to receive job training, employment and supportive services needed to remove them from welfare rolls.

We have improved the efficiency of the Federal-State Employment Security Service in matching job seekers and job openings with available jobs.

Job listings with the service have increased at a rate of 37%.

3. We have increased employment and training opportunities for minorities in apprenticeship programs, public service and veterans' programs.

Through the President's Veterans Program, we have found jobs and funded job training for over one million servicemen since June.

More than 160,000 unemployed and underemployed Americans have been hired in public service jobs, created by the Emergency Employment Act since August 1971.

Enrollments in Labor Department manpower work and on-the-job training programs have reached new all-time highs in the last year. More people are seeing social gains which benefit every wage earner. American labor has been a partner in every one of these accomplishments.

Unemployment, President Nixon, the rate of inflation has been cut significantly; employment has pushed to new high as unemployment has fallen; workers' wages and benefits have shown marked improvement; and productivity—an important factor in boosting our standard of living—has shown a healthy increase.

Manpower, training and services to aid the unemployed and underemployed, Vietnam veterans, minorities, rural Americans, disadvantaged youth and older citizens have placed more people in jobs and training than ever before.

We have increased employment and training opportunities for minorities in apprenticeship programs, public service and veterans' programs.

Through the President's Veterans Program, we have found jobs and funded job training for the just rewards of their labors.

Since last Labor Day, we have seen significant developments in the field of occupational safety and health.

Bicentennial Interest Rising But Much to Be Done

Copley News Service

It has been popular lately in some areas to attack the lack of interest of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, formed by mandate of Congress and appointed by the President.

In fact, the Senate standing committee has conducted a hearing into the progress of the commission.

Hopefully, the hearings will clear the air, and enable the commission to report in public forum what it has done and what it intends to do.

Criticism of the commission itself in itself is not necessarily destructive, because criticism means interest.

The ARBC has had to work far too long in the dark, not knowing the real intent of the commission.

Even Congress has paid much attention to the work of the commission until recently. Under President Nixon, who reformed the commission and appointed new members, ARBC has been moving slowly as is the nature of commissions.

However, it already has succeeded in extending its influence into all of the states.

It has obtained money from Congress to help programs that it has drawn hundreds of organizations into a network of planning and cooperation.

The Bicentennial discussion in this era could be expected to heighten interest and excitement.

Liberals who use a vehicle through which to have the celebration have sought to have the celebration embrace all their social causes.

There are those who live in states of the original 13 colonies who hope that the celebration should concern only them and their heritage.

Some have pointed to the failure of Philadelphia to embrace the 1776 world fair.

Even Congress has paid much attention to the work of the commission until recently.

The commission has taken the position that the celebration must be nationwide, must involve the people, and must reflect the memories, the dreams, the hopes and aspirations of all Americans.

Despite the expected contribution of programs across the country, the commission has been developed across the country.

By the same token, it also is true that defeatism breeds apathy.

Although the Bicentennial climax still is more than three years hence, constant carp and criticism could destroy what must be a vigorous national introspection and a bid to the future of the world in a happy occasion.

In announcing plans to involve all Americans in the Bicentennial, President Nixon declared that it could serve to unite us all in goals for the next century.

As we are to meet the constructive challenge, the time has come to shift the Bicentennial program into high gear.

Name and address must accompany each letter, but will not be published if requested. Communications of less than 250 words will receive prompt attention. Letters subject to cancellation and astronomical delays will not be returned.

Street in Granite City was a quiet residential street, but not any more. Apparently, new children in the neighborhood have not been taught to put their toys away when playing with them.

It is an everyday occurrence to have tricycles, other toys, etc., on the street, for pedestrians to walk around.

Some of the men work an afternoon shift. When they come home at midnight, there is slamming of automobile doors while the car on the driveway is driven into the street, the worker's car driven onto the driveway and then the family car driven back onto the driveway.

If you aren't aware before, you will be after all the slamming of doors.

And now the alley between Royal Street and St. John's Cemetery. Bystanders say they have never seen anything like it. There are four houses in the alley, with wild vines. Also lawn chairs, unfastened plastic bags with contents strewn about and other trash in general.

Police have been phonon and say to call the inspector. The city has been informed and a postcard sent him; still the mess remains. Right now there are a half dozen tree limbs in the alley. So where do you go for help?

Life and Death Topic—More Reach Old Age But Span Not Increasing

Each year about this time we glance at the annual Life Insurance Fact Book. The 1972 edition, just received from the Institute of Life Insurance, in most instances carries complete insurance data through 1971.

The 126-page volume contains more statistical charts than the layman might wish to contemplate, but it also has a wealth of information about a couple of rather important subjects-life and death.

During the first half of this century, the statistics show, health advances brought sharp reductions in the overall U. S. death rate.

Control of diseases associated with childbirth, infancy, respiratory infections, tuberculosis and diabetes greatly reduced deaths at the younger ages. But this brought corresponding increases in the percentage of deaths associated with old age.

In 1971, nearly three out of four deaths of ordinary life insurance policyholders with U. S. life companies were due to two principal causes—cardiovascular disease, cancer.

Cardiovascular refers to the heart and blood vessels; renal relates to the kidneys.

The combination has declined slightly in total importance, but not steadily from year to year, but the rate of deaths due to heart disease dropped slightly to an even 20%.

A significant trend in recent years is the increasing percentage of policyholder deaths due to motor vehicle accidents.

In 1945, motor vehicle mishaps caused only 2.3% of all deaths and represented somewhat more than a quarter of all accidental deaths.

But in the latest calendar year, motor vehicle fatalities caused 3.5% of total deaths and accounted for more than half of all accidental deaths. Other accidents caused 3.0% of total deaths in 1971.

Tuberculosis and diabetes combined represented only 1.0% of ordinary policyholder deaths, while cancer, pneumonia and homicide caused another 2.3%. All other causes aggregated 18.5%.

"Grouping accidental deaths, suicides and homicides into an 8.8% category can be misleading," says the report. "Four pieces of evidence are included: cardiovascular-renal, 20.0%, and all other 19.5%.

This can be simplified into half of those deaths, the heart, circulatory system and kidneys, a fifth involving cancer, another one-fifth miscellaneous and a tenth caused by factors external to the body itself—accidents and violence.

Life insurance companies have the same objective as the individuals they do business with: they would like to see death postponed as long as possible.

They have chosen the realm of basic research to accomplish this. Their contributions and research grants have been channeled primarily in three directions:

1. Biomedical research,

2. Delivery of health care services.

3. Preventive medicine.

Despite this, a kind of plateau has been reached—perhaps not a permanent barrier to extending longevity, but a definite pause in progress toward longer life.

The death rate for the U. S. population has remained at about the same level for more than a decade.

On the basis of figures adjusted for the changing proportions of people at each age in the population, the rate was determined to be 1971 as the most recent year for which such age-adjusted figures are available. This compares with 7.4 per thousand in 1965, 7.6 in 1966, 7.8 in 1967, 7.9 in 1968, 8.0 in 1969, 8.1 in 1970, 8.2 in 1971.

In 1970, the difference in life expectancy between white and nonwhite males was 1.4 years.

In 1970, the difference in life expectancy between white and nonwhite females was 3.3 years.

Hints on Surviving Teenagers' Clutter

By PAT and MARILYN DAVIS

Copley News Service
Dear Pat and Marilyn:
I have two teenagers and think my wife, Karen, is 14. Both are strong, healthy girls.

However, their rooms look as though a tornado ran through.
There are clothes, pop
bottles and books on the floor.
Nothing is neat.

The bathroom is between their rooms and it is even worse.

They never rinse the tub and the counter is covered with make-up, hair spray, perfume, rollers, etc.

When they have guests they play the hi-fi so loud that the neighbors complain. How do parents live through this?

Worn Out

Dear Worn Out: You don't have a few rules and see that they are followed.

It is not necessary to make an issue out of small things.
However, most teenagers need and want certain guidelines.

Do not tell your teenagers in this area. Tell your two daughters that their rooms can pass inspection all privileges are canceled.

And stick with it! Someone must make the rules and your seniority gives you that privilege.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: Poly

and I have been best friends since grade school. But since we've been in high school something has changed.

I've always been good at math, science, art, etc., or try for class secretary. Whenever
I mention trying to win
an election, for example, Poly
will tell me to be realistic.

She throws cold water on every idea I have. Why would a best friend act like this?

I have two more years of high school and want to participate in a variety of activities or try for class secretary. Whenever
I mention trying to win
an election, for example, Poly
will tell me to be realistic.

Dear S.A.: The trouble with Poly is that she is too realistic.

How do you know what your limitations are until you try?

Some friendships offer no possibilities and can be detrimental.
A good friend has confidence in you — bolster you up.

Pick friends who enjoy the same activities. They do who help you find out who you are and where your interests lie.

Give your relationship with Poly a great deal of thought; and, in the meantime, find a new friends to share some of your interests.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: I've been dating Mike for two years and he says he loves me.

I'm a senior in high school and he's going to college soon. I can think of the dozens of new girls he will meet.

I've told him that I will not date anyone and I expected the same promise from him. All I got was silence.

Is there any way I can keep everything he wants.

Presented Business Administration Award

Richard N. McKinney, assistant professor of business administration, has received an award as the "most outstanding professor of the master of business administration (MBA) program."

The award was given by the MBA Association, a group of students, faculty, staff, and graduates of the program, presented by Lance Kramer, president, to McKinney for his "overall contribution to the MBA program."

The association was formed in 1971 and the award was the first of its kind. The organization plans to make such a presentation annually.

Mike 'from' dating others? — Gerry

Dear Gerry: A leash may work on a dog but not on a young man.

The best way to keep Mike is to give him his freedom.

Don't demand exclusive rights.

True love can survive one year of college. By that time, you'll be married.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: Will you please explain something to me? Who turned aside a second cookie, said he'd lost 34 pounds, and planned to stay with it?

This is impossible because sometimes a party isn't over until then. If you go to a later one, it's impossible to stop for something to eat.

Dear 15: Assuming that you haven't yet, I'll explain something to you. Be glad your parents care enough to make and enforce rules.

One a.m. is late enough for any 15-year-old. Many have midnight as a deadline.

Remember, no body gets away with anything.

usual squad of protective state troopers, and without the usual contingent of reporters and TV cameramen. He explained that

'Relaxed' Governor Makes Surprise McKendree Visit

It was a trim, relaxed Rich
B. Ogilvie who turned up at the governor's reception at McKendree College in Lebanon, Tenn.

President Eric N. Rackham of McKendree was having an official reception for administration, faculty and staff to officiate the opening of the new facilities on the second floor of century-old Old Main when the governor's camper bus, its loudspeaker blaring a march tune, pulled into the parking lot. So the nature of the reception changed and the governor enjoyed cookies and punch out of doors.

Leave Memento

The governor shook every student's hand as he entered the president's office, but before he left he gave President Rackham a memento of the visit, a state seal in bronze mounted on a piece of marble. And he promised that when invited he would come to McKendree College to speak.

The governor was accompanied by his wife, a driver and an aide.

He toured historic Bothwell chapel on the 144-year-old campus before he left. He already had campaign stops for the day.

Freeburg, Fayetteville and Mascoutah, and yet was to visit Trenton for lunch, then Edwardsburg and a major address at Southern Illinois University

There was no major announcement at McKendree, just a very personal communication by the man who aided McKendree College during its four-year liberal arts college.
Before he arrived Corcoran told him of the increase in student enrollment since the college under the Ogilvie administration, but the governor made no mention of it to Dr.
Rackham. Dr. Ernest Elliott, dean of the college, told the others with whom he spoke.

Although the governor has been on a campaign swing, he made no mention of politics at the
four-year liberal arts college.

His effort was particularly noteworthy because the home campus of that campaign was a college trustee. Democratic governor who was expected to speak for Republican Gov. Ogilvie for re-election this year.

GC Man Operates Used Equipment Lot Overseas

Eldon Voss, 40, son of Mrs.
Bertha Voss, 2439 Center St., will visit here during the weekend.

Voss operates a used-equipment
lot for the U.S. Government in Singapore and reports that business is booming.

Voss and his family are on a 14-day rest and recuperation leave and will return overseas

soon.

In recent years, Voss has spent most of his time overseas with the Department of the Army's property disposal

unit.

The machinery Voss is selling comes from Vietnam. According to government officials, the sales in Saigon were returning about two cents for each dollar of the purchase price, so they decided to open a "showroom" in Singapore.

His Four Acres

Under Voss' supervision, the government now is getting 18 cents on a dollar. The used equipment being sold by Voss takes up four acres and includes bulldozers, trucks, forklifts, rock crushers and a few old airplanes, and an assortment of heavy gear.

Voss shows visitors around the Singapore lot with a flair, pausing to pat a grader on the blade.

Music World - 'Wishbone' Group on Its Way to Top

By JUDY HUGG

Copley News Service

"To be quite honest with you, we don't regard ourselves as a success when we're in this country, because we are doing things we had to do in England two years ago - just getting around doing the work. You know it's been a long time to make it in America."

So says Steve Upton, drummer for the highly popular English rock band, Wishbone Ash.

The group is working on an extension of their third tour which had been rescheduled because "Terry" full of equipment was "ripped off" after a gig in St. Louis.

However, the incident didn't discourage the band members and upon their return they brought with them an idea: It is sure to win them a place in the hearts of American rock fans.

"Argus" (MCA) is destined to become Wishbone's next success in the country.

Far one thing, it shows how much the quartet has matured musically since the last two LPs were released.

But oddly enough, when discussing the new "Argus," Steve says he had something to do with the things we've picked up."

It's not that there's a distinct difference between U.S. bands and English bands.

Generally, U.S. bands tend to be of a more relaxed and loose style, whereas English bands are more powerful, intense and direct, he says.

"Argus" is the result of these influences and many hours of a dash of the blues and a pinch of up-tempo beat.

Good but extremely fragmented and chopped up.

"Argus" flows so much better than the other Wishbone LPs.

However, Martin — who handles most of the lyrics chores has done his job well on this with good balance between vocal and the instrumental portions.

Known for fascinating instrumental splashes that build and burst with intensity, "Argus" is an example of Wishbone's soft side.

Nestled among several explosive gems you find Upton's "Leaf and Stream" which is probably the closest they've ever gotten to a folk song.

It contains some beautiful lyrics along with fine guitar harmony.

"Sometimes" also runs along the mellow way with some exceptional guitar work by Ted.

"The King Will Come" and "Honky Chateau" are typical Wishbone

Ash standouts, being intense, tight and powerful.

Course Here Will Focus on 1972 Presidential Campaign

A senior level speech course at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will focus during fall semester on the 1972 presidential campaign speeches.

Class members will analyze the speeches of the presidential and vice presidential candidates and try to determine their impact, if any, on the voting public.

David Valley, a new SIUE speech faculty member, will be the instructor. Beginning Sept. 21, the class will meet from 5:30 to 8:20 p.m. on Thursdays in the basement of the Communications Building. The four-hour credit course is entitled Contemporary Public Address.

Valley, who received his Ph.D. degree in June from the University of Illinois, wrote his doctoral dissertation on presidential nomination acceptance speeches from 1832 through 1968.

"Acceptance speeches have become shorter and more general over time since the radio and television era," Valley relates. He attributes this to the fact that they are heard today by a more diversified public.

"You have to look at the campaign speeches directed to special interest groups to find out what today's candidates stand for," he believes.

"We will compare these with those of previous years and discuss any differences in approach and content.

"We will analyze these speeches and see how they fit into the American tradition of campaigning and try to interpret the voters' reactions," Val-
